Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 23 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain.

Today:
An overcast day with areas of hill fog. Outbreaks of rain throughout the day, but feeling milder with light southerly winds. Possibly a brief spell of drier, brighter weather in the south later. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain will slowly move northwards during the evening, allowing drier conditions to form across much of the region, however it will remain cloudy with fog patches in places. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Friday:
Rain will slowly move back south across the region during the day, possibly turning wintry over high ground. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Rain and snow likely to clear towards the south on Saturday. Wintry showers possible Sunday and Monday, particularly near the coast, with some sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.